Grant and Democracy Press Assemblies

Leadership Week

Apostle Merrill, Adam S. Benion, President A. W. Ivins, B. H. Roberts, H. M. Woodward Also Speak

President Heber J. Grant and Governor George H. Dern will be in all probability, address general assemblies of Leadership Week, according to Dr. Lowry Nelson, general chairman of Leadership Week. Dr. Nelson states that in a letter to President F. S. Harris, President Grant assures that he will be here unless some unforeseen difficulty arises. The Wednesday assembly at the hotel being left open for him. Friday is being reserved for Governor Dern. The probability of his coming is increased by the fact that the state legislature has been invited to inspect the State Mental hospital Friday and he may thus accomplish two purposes by coming to Provo that day. The governor is chairman of the State military board.

Other men of prominence appear on the assembly program. On Monday Dr. Joseph P. Merrill, commissioner of education and the well known Adam S. Benion of the church board, will be in Provo. On Tuesday President A. W. Ivins will head the program with a talk on "Our Economic Future." Thursday evening Dr. H. M. Woodward, of the department of Philosophy of Education of the Brigham Young university, will speak. B. H. Roberts, first vicar of the Seventies, will talk on "Social Trends" and "Problems of the Church."

All sessions of assembly for the Leadership visitors will be held at the University in College hall, and all visitors are cordially invited to attend.

Great Music Gives Feelings of Supermen States Robertson

Brigham Young university students were privileged to come in contact with great musical inspiration when Professors Robertson, Eggstad, and Nelson played in Wednesday's development of the symphony composed by Beethoven.

Professor Robertson gave a short address to the students. He said that the symphony was an expression of music appreciation before the war was played. "When we hear great music," he said, "we feel like supermen."

"Music is a contact with the emotions," he said, "and it is in emotion through sound," he said.

Professor Robertson declared that music is not for the artist to show but to be enjoyed by the audience.

A GREAT MACHINE

Next week the university plays host to about two thousand people from several nations and many states. They are mature men and women, leaders in social, religious, and civic affairs in their communities. They are coming to improve their minds so that they may aid their fellowmen to meet the problems of civilization more efficiently.

To aid them in their quest, the university Extension division, headed by Dr. Lowry Nelson, has perfected a huge, elaborate, and costly organization. Arrangements have been made to provide instruction, entertainment, and exhibition of the highest type. The faculty has assumed extra burdens, such as working on committees and preparing papers to deliver. Authorities and specialists in many lines have been secured from all over the state. Yet the student body will find many opportunities to supplement the great organization, to make the machine run more smoothly to step in and lend a hand. Every student will, we feel sure, be glad to extend such courtesies as needed information or guidance to the strangers.

COLLEGE UNION ABOUT DRINKING

Crystallizing the consensus of opinion of student leaders from college campuses, of all sections of the country, the answers to a questionnaire, presented by the student opinion committee of the Sixth Annual Congress of the National Student Federation headed by Lewis Powell of Washington and Lee University, drew national attention from the press.

A summary of the poll evinced the fact that 57 believed that "college drinking" was increasing, 47 thought that it was remaining static, 16 believed it was decreasing, while no one felt it had been eliminated. Student reaction to the questionnaire on prohibition was consistent with this trend of thought, 63 favored modification, 38 voted for repeal and 23 endorsed rigid enforcement. (National Student Federation Report).

The Live Y'er

By—

Mysterious Columnist

The other morning we found a folded, sealed paper on our desk. It was a mysterious, unnamed writer, offering his service as columnist. Let your hopes soar, readers. This fellow is most unusual. He modestly refuses to disclose his identity, stating that he will assume a name of his own choice. He modestly asserts that he has no axe to grind, no malicious purposes, nothing to hide.

He wishes his first column to be published in the January 27th issue of the News. If it meets our approval, we are willing with avid curiosity.

Prospective columnists, do not be frightened off by our statement in last issue that the Live Y'er column ought to contain current events in brief. We still have use for a humorous column on the editorial page. Several good attempts have already come in but we wish to reserve our decision for a time.

Mr. Jean Paulson, editor of the News last year, dropped into the office recently and offered some suggestions with regard to the paper. Jean will be remembered as an able editor, a polished actor, and a real wit.

Another former News-staff member who will be remembered as a call was Wayne Kerr, one of the associates last year.

If the "Beween" will start a Nervet Man contest, we have a nomination all ready. This fellow is a clerk to win for he is the one who wanted a rebate on a complimentary ticket which he forgot to use.

Last issue contained a peculiar and irritating column. Both of the "bees" appearing at the top of the

Alumni Artists

On exhibit also may be some fine China paintings by Mrs. Beattie C. Gouley. Mrs. Gouley has taken perhaps more premiums in Utah fairs for China paintings than any other such professional painter.

The works of the following artists will be included in the exhibit: Calvin Fletcher, Philip Barfield, Raach Kibbey, Jos. P. Russell, Cordelia Salisbury, Virgil Hales, Mrs. Gertrude Kibbey, R. L. Larzen, Genevieve H. Calkins, Wayne Johnson, Mrs. Mary Johnston, Alice Taylor, Elizabeth Johnson, Mrs. Flora D. Fisher, Mrs. Freda K. Gouley, Anne T. Gilligan, Jessie L. Young, Elbert H. Anderson, Cecil Pechan, Paul R. McKay, and E. H. Hastings.

Great Music Gives

an audience, rather it is to inform the audience and not necessarily to entertain. By illustrations from the lives of great composers, Professor Robertson showed that truly great artists are lovers of children, people, nature, and are averse to the artificial. He told how Brahms, a famous composer, who came shortly after Beethoven, so lightly considered the artificial tribute paid him by the press and wealthy, that he wouldn't even dress to accept it. He told how Brahms declared that he was delighted to shake the hand of a very common student of music.

front page conveyed misinformation. In the place, the rally was called off at a late stage in the preparations. Second, the date was given as January 25th, which we understood was to be held in the Ladies' gym, will be given in the Men's. So, quite mistakenly, we had a rather able start toward an "April Fool" issue.

Larsen's Paintings Lauded In Paris And New York

Another success has been secured by Professor E. P. Larsen of the Art department. In last issue, an account of his two pictures at the Grand Palais was given. Since then, he has received a number of letters from artists in Paris, London, and other artists, congratulating him on the work. Of special interest is a message from George Elmer Brown, well-known art circles, concerning Larsen's creation exhibited in the New York watercolor show.

Recently, the professor exhibited some oils at the Mississippi State show at Jackson. One picture won first prize. The other has been retained by that state to be hung in the Southern art exhibit. A letter from one of the students at Indiana College school of Art, Jackson, Mississippi, says: "We students of Belhaven College wish to express our appreciation for your willingness in sending your paintings to the exhibition. They help us much in our art studies."

An exhibit of the artist's work, which has been at St. George, during their Leadership week, is returning now.

DEMOIBY AND PALING-ADDER LEADERS OF AQ WORK

The monthly meeting of the Agricultural Leaders group composed of the agricultural college of the university, the Smith-Hughes men of the surrounding district, country agents, crop pest inspectors, and veterinary science men, was held in the City and County building of Provo, Saturday. The convention, of which Dr. Thomas L. Martin is president, meets to discuss problems in various departments. The first speaker was Dr. Martin, by Charles Demoby, and Dr. N. C. Spaulding. Last findings in Contagious Abortion furnished the educational element of the meeting.

LARGE CROWD SEES ALL-BOYS' SHOW WED.

Before a large crowd Alpha Kappa Psi produced their All-Boys' show in College hall last Wednesday night. It was predicted the dancing girls caused much merriment with their frank costumes and mimic acts. The setting, which was done with gusto, was about on a par with other performances of this annual event. Edwin Downes as Larry Gloss and John Dalton as Berkeley Brown perhaps excelled, but competition for honors was hot.

CLASSES TAKE CHARGE OF LEADERSHIP REGISTRATION

Leadership registration is in charge of the various classes again this year. There will be two tables in the Education building and one in the College building to accommodate the visitors. Two students will be at each table every hour to direct the guests. The Senior class will take charge Monday, Tuesday, Sophomores Wednesday, Freshmen Thursday and the High School Friday. Class presidents are assigning the students for the various tables and request that they be there promptly at the appointed hour.

Music Notes

The ladies glee club have begun practice on their annual cantata which is "Joan of Arc" and will be presented on Feb. 12.

Special accompaniments for some of the solos of Lidoie, Beethoven, the famous Russian singer, are now being worked up by the university orchestra, under the direction of Professor Roy J. Robertson.

The Sonata by Beethoven, which was played in the Wednesday devotional by Professor Robertson, Nelson and Buggert, was the first complete three movement trio to be played at the university.

The music department of the high school is considering the presentation of an opera in the near future.

Professor Sauer and his woodwind quartet played several numbers at the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet last week.

"IVORY DOOR" PROGRESSING

The "Ivory Door," the competitive play, is shaping nicely, the cast is working hard on their respective roles to give the best interpretation possible, according to Professor Alonzo Mosley.

Conference Rumbungs

By MUSCLE BOUND

Coch "Choppy" Rhodes is not the only coach that Wyoming acquired from the vicinity of the Middle West. Rhodes is director of athletics at the cowboy institution as well as a head football coach, and upon receiving his appointment he suggested several men for native land to migrate to western lands with him. This person goes by the name of M. McGrudge and is head basketball coach at Wyoming. His team received a two-game series with Brigham Young last year, and the Cougars rest excited to play them again. They are now going to the eastern division of the eastern conference, Coach Witter, in turn, decided that due to his being knocked by Coach Rhodes, he should also do something for his new school, and so, he brought his younger brother, Les Witter, for the last three years an all-conference prep school forward in Nebraska. Witter (the player) is proving to be one of the most sensational shooting forwards in the eastern sector, and when the Cougars play Colorado Teachers he was responsible for 18 of the 27 points that his team scored.

Colorado university, last year's champion of the eastern sector is a strong favorite to repeat their 1930 performance as they have been successful in winning their first two conference games although they lost three games in succession to independent fives from the Missouri valley and the University of Kansas. Colorado Teachers, with the three western brothers playing major roles, is also traveling the hardwood courts hard in an effort to keep up their basketball reputation.

Wyoming university also features a negro guard in the person of Harlan, who is a kid, has hands that reach to his knees, and which give him a tremendous advantage over all opponents. This western conference fencer is merely a reminder of the famous Brick Brecken of the Bobcats who had also tremendously long arms and big hands which made it easy for him to take the ball off the basket and was amply covered his assigned forward.

Les Lybrent, steady guard and captain of the Redskins a busy winning his fourth hoop letter, and doing a mighty good job of keeping the high scoring of opponents down to a minimum. Lybrent is also a three-year letterman in football, having been named on practically every all-conference squad selected during the last season.

Jerry Smith, captain of last year's squad, was the principal reason for the only creditable shows of the Utes work against the Aggies last week. He had his scoring eye working well, and it was the very hard for the champions guards to keep him in subjection. Jerry has one of the finest personalities ever possessed by an athlete, and is making the most of it by studying law. He is a senior in the Utah law school.

Lorraine Cox, forward, was a former sensation with Dixie High School when Elwood Romney was also scintillating there. He was troubled with sickness a large part of last year, but seems to have recovered from his delinquency this year, and is determined to help the Utes materially.

Red Clark, center, is a junior at the state university, and is playing his first year as a full-blooded regular. His scoring in the opening series against Montana State was sensational, but he was unable to function properly against Utah Aggies, mainly because of the rugged tactics used by the Logansville which seemed to get the red-head's game. He will be a good man for the Cougars to watch.

Theodore Davis, guard, is playing his first year as a regular having been a substitute guard for two years with George Watkins, now a substitute, was playing regularly. Davis went on and over Watkins mainly because of his scoring ability.

Other members of the squad can be injected into the fray at any time without diminishing the team strength to any great extent. Frank Westphal, a freshman from Cyprus High, and Dick Lund, another freshman, U. T. S. star are both promising men and are most likely the substitutes to see action.

Y WRESTLING TEAM IS CHOSEN THROUGH UNIT COMPETITION

Veterans Dominate the Selections Brought Out by the Contest

Plans in the intra-Mural Wrestling tournament were run off Wednesday and Thursday in the Men's Gym. The heavyweights final between "Doc" Richardson and Clifford Rutherford, 219-pound title on a platter, since it was a ten-minute decision affair which Richardson won. He employed the "bear hug" and "arm bar" wrestling tactics and showing much promise. Captain Iwan Hales received the 192-pound title on a platter, since no one came to contest his right to the belt.

Thursday evening came several exciting bouts. Kyle Clark, 113, three Wesley Bayles in 2:35 with a head chancery and arm hold. Neil Smart, 125, topped Wesley Bayles, second of the Bayles twins, in 2:45 with a front vicious. The veteran, Smart, showed signs of old time williness and power. Ray Haddock, 135, defeated Ward Despain in ten minutes. This was a grueling battle that extended the principals to the utmost. Despain took the aggressive at the start but Haddock seemed to grow stronger and as the bout progressed took the lead. The end found Haddock hanging on gamely but eventually with little to spare. The going saved him.

S. Stevan, 145, topped Wesley Peterson in 5:20 with a head chancery and body hold. Frank Jorgensen, 155, defeated W. Coffman in a ten-minute go in which the former held all the better of it. Robert Youngson was awarded first in the 165-pound class.

Although anyone may still try out for the wrestling team during the time which intervenes before the first intercollegiate matches, with the Aggies February 7, it is highly probable that the 106-winners in the annual tourney will constitute the first-string wrestling team.

COUGARS BATTLE 'U'

undoubtedly leave men with the only undefeated record in the conference, provided, of course, that Utah State State U. at least one game to Montana State as Roseman, which they are the winners in the annual tourney will constitute the first-string wrestling team.

It is believed by many critics that the Cougars had the best team in the country last year, but such critics as those as losing last game had already been checked in the win column and such difficulties lost them at least three important games, and that the best team in the country was the Utah State and Montana State play is out for the title. To substantiate this argument of the greatness of last year's Cougars, it can be remembered that the Cougars were the only team to defeat the Bobcats on their home court at Roseman, and took their victory by very close scores due to an adopted style of maneuver.

Utah Has Veteran-Outlet All of the Utah regulars and substitutes are veterans, many are playing either their third or fourth year on the varsity, and present probably the best veteran outfit in the division. The Cougars are working smoother than last year's team since Hunter has found himself, all of the other members of the starting lineup being veterans. Elwood Romney went wild in the Montana series and if he is not against Utah, it appears that the Cougars stock will go up a few points, on the other hand, Jerry Smith of the Utes is the man to be feared by the Mounties, and George Cooper will probably be assigned to cover him.

Everything considered, the series should be one of utmost interest, the outcome probably depending upon which players are on in basket shooting. With Aggies and Montana State, it also has tonight and tomorrow at Roseman in a two game series, and the team standing of the division is not what it might be Sunday morning.

The opening lineup will be composed of:
B. Y. U. Utah
Romney R.F. Smith
Brinley L.F. Cox
Harris C. Clark
Magley (C) E.G. Davis
Cooper Y. Lybrent

Tausigs And Cougar Errants Win Games In New League

Biddulph and Probert of Errants and Warnick and Rasmussen of Tausigs Are Stars

The second half of the Inter-School Basketball Tournament got under way Monday evening when the Mounties were scored out one point by the Tausigs, 24-23; and the Cougar Errants stormed over the Nags to the tune of 54-23.

The game between the Mounties and Tausigs was a close game throughout. A last minute rally by the Mounties just came short by one point of a victory. Inasmuch as this was the first game the newly-organized Mounties had played, they are to be congratulated upon their fine showing. Leonard Pense and Dick Clark were the big guns for the losers and Warnick and Rasmussen played well for the winners.

The Cougar Errants opened up the second half of the tournament with a formidable team that had all indications will be the team to beat. Biddulph and Probert were the big guns for them. Biddulph did some phenomenal shooting in the last half to score sixteen points, while Probert was high point man of the fracas with sixteen digits to his credit. Graham played grand ball for the losers until he was taken from the game on personal fouls.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS TODAY

One of the most important games in the local division of the high school league is scheduled for this afternoon at 5:00 o'clock in the Ladies' Gym when the B. Y. high school Wildcats attempt to spoil the undefeated record of the American Fork high school eagles.

Coach Rags Ingorsmith, American Forkers finished second in the state tournament last year, and, although they haven't played in it as formidable a crew as they had last year, they are very dangerous, and it will be a man-sized task, indeed, for the locals to upset them. Nevertheless, William Nelson, Wheatland mentor, has developed a very speedy combination from somewhat delinquent material, and at present has one of the best teams in the league.

American Fork has won both of its league games so far while the local high school lads won one, but lost their first game to Pleasant Grove by one point.
